A day of sackcloth and ashes was Columbus Day at Jamaica racerack yesterday afternoon. The wailing and lamentation that arose to the high heavens when Sleiveconard, backed from 5 to 2 to 7 to 10, was left at the post in the last race made Rachel's crying for her children sound ike childhood's happy laughter.

GLEN COVE, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Playcompleted the general consternation by harpooning the guileless irregulars every time they stuck their heads above the parapet. The only happy smiles that left the track (aside from the oralists') were worn by insiders who were at the round table when certain melons were sliced. Of that anon. The Westmount Stable's Sennings Park won the Interborough Handicap that was the feature and which was worth $3.500 to the winner. This gem of a day's battered diadem was not so phoney when lined up against local fall styles even though the real advertised class had been withdrawn in Mad Hatter, Knobbie, Tryster and Emotion. It was a fine betting race for a field of four, and three of the four were heavily supported. Sennings Park, Frank J. Farrell's Horologe and H. Waterson's Brainstorm commanded the play while Hephaistos receded. Sennings Park's Fine Race

Sennings Park's Fine Race

Sennings Park ran a grand race and one deserving of victory. For over a track that was good at best he reeled off the mile and a sixteenth in 1:45 2.5, which was just one-fifth second off the rack record set by Brainstorm the opening day of the present meeting. Sennings Park, which carried 11s pounds, as against ninety-eight packed by the three-year-old the day he made the record, conceded three pounds by the scale to Brainstorm yesterday afternoon and the latter had picked up ten pounds over the occasion of his last sensational race. But there were many who believed that good as Sennings Park was Brainstorm might have taken his measure yesterday afternoon with a better ride.

Laverne Fator, who, when he cares, is one of the very greatest riders in America, was severely criticized for the manner in which he handled Brainstorm. Fator trailed the field many learths back for three-guarters of the sensational race, and the sensational race and the sensational race. But there were many who believed that good as Sensational race. But there were many who believed that good as Sensational race. America, was severely criticized for the manner in which he handled Brainstorm. Fator trailed the field many lengths back for three-quarters of a mile, though his mount always was full of running. He did not turn Brainstorm loose till well down the stretch, and then after he had saved many lengths when the rest of the field swung wide into the stretch.

Larry Lyke delivered a masterpiece in horsemanship with Sennings Park, rating his mount smoothly all the way and delivering a regular "Garrison" finish at the end. The Westmount chestnut, off slowly on the rail, soon raced up into the lead, and under mild restraint opened a lead of two lengths in the run up the backstretch. Horologue and Hephaistos fought it out nose and nose, meanwhile, for the contending honors. Hephaistos faltered going to the far turn and here Horologue made a serious bid. McAtee quickly stepped up with the Farrell horse until he was lapped on the pacemaker rounding the home hend. Lyke made a very wide turn, carrying Horologue to the outside of the track. Hephaistos swung wide behind the others.

Horologe Tries Hard

Then began a stirring duel between Sennings Park and Horologe. They ought nose to nose under a hard drive. Sennings Park and Horologe. They fought nose to nose under a hard drive. Hephaistos then came to the outside and Brainstorm saved many lengths by skimming the rail. They were all so well bunched that it appeared any one might win from the furlong pole. Horologue, to the extreme outside, hung on gamely to the sixteenth, where he began to bear out, as a tired horse will do. The distance was too far for him and the weight too much, for McAtee is not particularly noted for his strong finishes. Of the four, Brainstorm was now running the strongest and he continued to close ground on Sennings Park right to the end. There easily might have been a different story had not Fator lain so far off in the early pace.

The Rancocas Stable engineered the biggest killing of fall racing when Earl Sande brought home Satellite winner in the third race, a dash of six furlongs for two-year-old maiden colts and geldings. Satellite, backed from 6 to I to 5 to 2, was favorite at post time. The Oak Ridge Stable's Sakah, also heavily played, had all the early foot and soon opened up a lead of several lengths, but tired at the sixteenth, before Satellite's great rush. Sande, of course, put it over Cliff Robinson when it came to the matter of a finish.

Sande's masterful ride here was in Sande's masterful ride here was in direct contrast to that on Raffies in the first race, when the heavily played favorite was beaten by Ben Wood, absolutely overlooked in the betting. Raffies rushed off into the lead and seemed under wraps rounding the turn. But Ben Wood hung on gamely and moved up to challenge. Ben Wood went away wide turning into the stretch and Sande, on the inside, went wide with him, evidently believing he had the race in and that he would allow no advantage in footing. In other words, he rode Ben Wood and not Raffles, for the ground he lost on the turn cost him the race. Ben Wood outgamed the favorite in the drive through the stretch to win by a half length.

Long Shot Leads Field

Long Shot Leads Field The Columbus Day Handicap, a dash of six furlongs for all ages, that closed out the card, was the saddest chapter out the card, was the saddest chapter of a life gone wrong. Sleiveconard, backed from 5 to 2 to 7 to 10, wheeled as the barrier was released and was as badly left as any horse could be. Lanius, the opening favorite, that should have profited by this misfortune, failed to do so. He was unable to run down A. K. Macumber's light weighted The Dictator, that had been backed from 30 to 1 to 10 to 1.

The Dictator was the second long shot of the afternoon. Witchwork, at 20 to 1, dropped out of the clouds in the stretch run of the mile and a furlong third, and in the very last atride got up to beat Rustler, which also came from nowhere. Huonec, the favorite of this cheap feld, never figured.

Race Sunday at Velodrome Sunday afternoon at the New York Velodrome a 100-kilometer team race with twenty-five teams will be held. Goullet and Piani is one of the star combinations entered. The race will start at 3 o'clock. One hundred kilo-meters is equivalent to 62% miles.

Miske and Gibbons have boxed three both men were at equal weights. Of
